Looking back through the last 5 years of our Christmas edition specials I was once again amazed at the diversity of ideas, methods and techniques we have been able to share. The other reassuring statistic I noticed was that in those almost 500 pages over that period, not once have we repeated the same set of ideas.

It follows that if all these editions were put together you would have an enormous library of festive ideas you could call on over the next 3 months... and every year after that too! Check out page 88 because you now have the opportunity to do that, right now.

And of course this issue is your starting point with even more great Christmas arrangements to learn from, adapt or copy.

Have fun!
Happy arranging
